BILKEY LAW CORP.

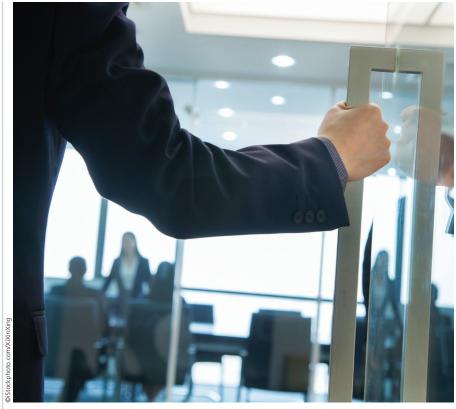

Five decades of insurance litigation experience

By David Bilkey

egal depth" and "geographic reach" are two qualities that have caught the attention of our clients. We are a small group of lawyers dedicated to insurance litigation, with experience appropriate for all levels of court in B.C. We offer over 50 years of experience in insurance litigation. But at the same time, our small size allows us to offer competitive pricing.

Our legal depth has served a large number of insurers well in the settlement and trial of complex property and casualty claims, subrogation and coverage. It has also served underwriters and claims personnel well through our advice on policy wording. Our resumé includes the successful handling of claims up to the Supreme Court of Canada, ranging from modest bodily injury to billion-dollar class actions covering multiple jurisdictions. Our lawyers have published on important topics ranging from complex construction defect cases involving multiple parties, recreational injury claims and commercial-host liability to fire loss and soil subsidence claims. We boast a long-standing reputation for excellence and credibility among our peers and at all court levels in British Columbia.

Bilkey Law Corp. has an open door policy and welcomes calls from all claims personnel.

Remarkable growth has recently allowed us to expand. From our offices in Vancouver, Kamloops and Nelson, we've put boots on the ground throughout B.C. This geographic reach has proven extremely attractive to our clients.

Our current objective is paperless data management. One of our mottos is embracing change. It means that we listen to our clients and respond to their needs in a changing marketplace.

Our door is always open. We welcome calls from all claims personnel. Do we always charge for our advice? No. We welcome your business. IP
